

I urge you not to allow cellphone use on planes. We all know that there are just enough people out there, plenty of whom travel frequently by plane, who just don't understand or don't care about cell phone manners and will make the ride excruciating for the majority who do.